BY STEAMSHIP.

The mails of the steamer Asia reached this city from Boston, yesterday. The advices are one day later than previous dates.

GREAT BRITAIN. FENIAN AVFAIRS.

The immediate cause of the outbreak in Ireland, appears to have been the arrest by the Government of a Captain Moriarty, described by The Times as an Irish American, and an officer of high rank in the brotherhood. He was found with dispatches on his person from Gen. O'Conner, the Military Head Center of the district. The dispatches warned the people, to "prepare for an immediate rising." A commission was also found on him, said to be in the hand writing of James Stephens. The last-named ubiquitous gentlemen, some of the papers report, was at the head of the Division "which fired at the orderly," or rather menuted policeman, which he turns out to have been. The dispatch adds that James Stephens immediately mounted the "captured horse." The latest and best news is that the only "wounded man" is recovering. The Evening Globe of the 16th states that letters from Stephens were found on Capt. Moriarty, also that Murphy, the Head Center for Limerick, and two American Colonels were arrested on the morning of the 16th. News from Chester states that arms and ball cartridges have been found in the river at that city, and packets of cartridges have also been found in the Mosley Tunnel of the North-Western Railway. The County of Kerry has been proclaimed under martial law, and £500 reward has been offered for the man who shot the policeman. It is stated that Stephens is certainly in Ireland, and that he landed $1 a place called Kells.

THE TORNADO CASE.

It appears from the papers laid before Parliment that Lord Stanly had to threaten Spain in order to obtain the Artemus Ward is still at Radby's Hotel, Southampton, very sick and weak, but better than the last advices indicated. He is very anxious to reach New-York, and his physician has recommended a sea voyage as the only because of prolonging his life. Some members of the London "Savage Club" go to and from London in turn to keep him company, and Capt. John Britton, the U.S. Consul at Southampton, has been unremitting in his attentions and kindness.

Judge Redfield of Vermont is in London, commissioned by Mr. Seward, to look after the interests of the United States as touching public property in the hands of Rebels. The Judge supersedes Messix, Morse and Dudley in the management of these affairs, and we are advised that his present impression is in favor of withdrawing altogether from litigation in the English law courts, either giving up the property with his liabilities, or making it a matter of compromise.

FRANCE.

THE CORPS LEGISLATIF. The sittings of the Corps Législatif were opened on the 18th of February by a speech from Count Walewski, the 18th of February by a speech from Count Walewski, the President, who said: "The Emperor advances with a firm step in the path of progress—a path in which those who misapprehend the requirements of the age run an equal risk of going astray as those who let themselves be allured by vain Utopias. By augmenting our rights the Emperor has augmented our responsibility and our duties. France, unshakeable in her powerful unity, and rendering to the Government confidence for confidence, can look on events with serenity, certain that none of her great interests will be imperiled in the hands which direct her, and certain, also, to always be ready to achieve whatever her destinies may demand; and to show that no effort is beyond her patriotism." On the same day a senatus committee was communicated to the Senate, enacting that hencetinies may dequand; and to show that no effort is beyond her patriotism." On the same day a senatus consultum was communicated to the Senate, enacting that henceforth, before determining upon the promulgation of a law, that body may, if they consider that the law calls for important modifications, decide that it be submitted anew to the deliberations of the Corps Législatif; if, after a second discussion, the law should be adopted by the Corps Législatif without amendment, it will then be for the Senate to consider only whether they shall oppose the promulgation or not upon constitutional grounds.

THE YELLOW BOOK.

The Yellow-book was distributed on the 15th among members. With regard to Eastern affairs, it dwells upon members. With regard to Eastern affairs, it dwells upon the traditional policy of France, and states that the Emperor has always favored combinations which, while consolidating peace, could also conduce to the development of the moral and material well-being of the populations. In those provinces in which treaties had laid down the basis of a real autonomy, he had counseled the Porte to give to that system all the extension that the nature of things would permit, especially in the question of the Umited Principalities, which have obtained a government in conformity with their wishes.

With regard to Crete, the Yellow-book states that ties of sympathy unite that island to Greece. It expresses regret that the Sublime Porte did not follow the counsels of France, and sent promptly a Commissioner to Crete to settle the difficulties which existed, and continues thus:

"The population, over-excited, now in sits on incorporation with threats, instead of the reforms which it as trust demanded. The extension of the insurection produced agitation in the Heilenie provinces of Turkey, and excited public opioion in the Ringdom of Greece. The short was fell the fortrasses in Servia occupied by Tarkey. We advised the Porte to adopt resolutions in a sense favorable to the Christian populations. We always the happ if the Porte were to accele to our advised. The Creta question still exist unsolved. In presence of the commotion which has been created in the East, and the sympathies which have been awakened in all Europe, will the commissations which were at first deemed sufficient be found to be so still. The Ottoman Gererament should form on faliacious illusions. It must resilies the sections as a way preserve it from the periodical return of singlar excitement.

With regard to Germany has preserved its absolute right to decide what relations it shall maintain with the Northern Confederation. Austria no leager forms parts of Germany to tally.

The Yellow-book also recalls the fact that Prussia has received to a company to the win repairing the calamities caused by the civil war. No subject of dissen-eson now ensite between the two markets.

Great rightes the assuminate their policies."

Referring to Mexico, the Yellow-book says:—

"The departure of the French troops was resolved upon in the full plesitude of our liberty of action. Anything having the rharseter of external pressure could only have placed as in the position, despite ourselves, of baring to probong a state of things which we should wish to abridge. By next March our troops will have quitted Mexico."

ITALY. THE POLITICAL CRISIS.

Parliament has been dissolved, and a new election ordered on the 19th of March. The Cabinet is being reconstructed in order to make it acceptable to the country Jacini, Scialogia and Bergatti have resigned, and their resignations have been accepted. Berti had also resigned, but it was believed he would retain his portfolio of Public Instruction. It is believed that Ricasoh will remain either at the head of a cabinet with Ratazzi in it, or as second in a ministry with Cialdini at its head. The latter is supposed to be adverse to entering upon political life, and Ratazzi and his party are very odious to the country. Much excitement prevailed at Florence, and many meetings of deputies have been held. It is the most severe political crisis the country has experienced. Seventy-two Liberals had proposed an address to the people. The Ministry, when constituted, were expected to issue an appeal to the electors. The Perveceranca, perhaps the best, certainly the gravest journal in Italy, says: "Italy is in danger of dying by her own hands. Enfranchised by a series of marvelous events, there is peril that the country may fail from pure lack of administrative ability. The crisis should be met by a new and united effort of patriotism."

THE TRANSFER OF VENICE COMPLETED.

The transfer of Venetia is at hast finished. Gen. Möring held his last conference with the Italian representative on the 8th, and left for Vienna on the 11th. sut it was believed he would retain his portfolio of Public

PRUSSIA.

THE ELECTIONS AND THE LIBERAL PARTY.

One report says the elections of deputies to the North German Parliament, as far as is at present known, have in great part proved favorable to the Liberal party. In Berlin, Magdeburg, Stettin, Rostock and Breslau, all the electoral districts have returned Liberal candidates. Gen. Falkenstein has been elected in Konigsberg, the former Minister, Herr Manchausen, in the City of Hanover; and Baron de Rothschild in Frankfort. In Elberfeld a second election will be necessary to decide whether Count Hismarck or Herr Von Forkenbeck is the successful candidate. Bismarck is evidently popular; he has been returned by ten different electoral colleges. Great excitement has succeeded everywhere to the almost universal apathy for the elections to the Northern Parliament. The Liberal party seems certain of a good working majority. The Central Committee is receiving enormous contributions, which will amply provide for granting to the Deputies the salary the Government refused to give them.

It is stated that the King, yielding to the solicitations of the King of Saxony, has consented to waive the right given to Prussia by the last treaties to garrison Dresden in time of peace. North German Parliament, as far as is at present known,

THE HUNGARIAN MINISTRY.

The statesmen who have been nominated for the new Hungarian Ministry have terminated their conferences, and they were received on the 14th by the Emperor. It is stated that on the 21st an Imperial rescript will be communicated to the Hungarian Diet replying to the address of that body, and sanctioning the formation of a Hungarian Munistry. pposition. ian Ministry.

TURKEY.

THE PORTE AND THE GREAT POWERS.

Constantinople advices of the 12th indicate that the important modifications which have just taken place in the Government mean that the Porte intends to follow the advice of the great Powers, and to grant efficacions concessions and reforms not only in Candla but also in Servia, Thessalia, and Epirus. France, to avoid being isolated, upholds now the policy of concession and conciliation first urged on the Porte by Russia and Austria, and supported by England and Prussia.

and supported by England and Prussia.

IEFORM.

Public opinion decidedly tends to reform. There is a party called Young Turkey, at the head of which is Mustapha Pacha, brother of the Viceroy of Egypt, and much esteemed by the Sultan, who, however, does not think that the moment has yet arrived to break up with the old traditions, by making him his Grand Vizier.

The relations between the Turkish Government and the Viceroy are exceedingly precarious. The ambitious projects assigned to his Highness two weeks ago are now fully known at the Divan.

ARRIVAL OF A FRENCH TRANSPORT WITH TROOPS FROM VERA CRUZ-LOSS OF A TRANSPORT OFF JA-MAICA-TROUBLES IN VENEZUELA-DELIVERY OF THE BOLIVAR TO THE VENEZUELANS.

om Our Special Correspondent. HAVANA, Feb. 27, 1867. Since my last communication, no further news has been received here from Mexico. The only arrival here from Vera Cruz since I wrote last has been a French steamer, transport of war, with about 700 soldiers on Cabinet Councils were meeting at the residence of the steamer, transport of war, with about 700 soldiers or Earl of Derby almost daily, and the "ranners" say not of board on their return to France. The English mail steam er Mersey, of the West Indian mail line, arrived here the sery harmonious character.

MR. SEWARD AND MR. MOTLEY.

There seems to be one subject upon which all parties in Engiand, in Parliament, at the clubs, and everywhere else are agreed, viz. "That the recall of Mr. Motley from Vienna is disreputable to Mr. Seward, disgraceful to the President, and a misfortune to the American people."

MERING OF THE LIBERALS.

A circular has been issued by Mr. Brand, the "whipperin" of the Liberal party, calling a meeting of the members of that party at the residence of Mr. Gladstone on Thursday, the 21st of February.

It sppears from the papers laid before Parliment that Lord Stanly had to threaten Spain in order to obtain the release of the Tormado's crew, and that he now demands an indemnity in terms which signify that if it is refused be will employ force.

Hersey, of the West Indian mail line, arrived here the day before yesterday from St. Thomas and Porto Rico, and was immediately put in quarantine, but allowed to leave on the following day. By her we have received news that one of the French transports, the Gironde, was lost on her way to Vera Cruz, off Portland, Jannaica, having struck on a reef of rocks during the night while going at the rate of nine knots an hour. The Gironde was a wooden vessel of about 1,200 tans burden, having a crew of 40 men who had been all well provided for at Fort Royal. The English steamer Steady had gone with the necessary requisites to put again affloat the Gironde, and it was expected would succeed in doing so.

In Jamaica the public health was in excellent condition and the late rains gave hopes of a future favorable harvest for the came and other products of the sell, except the coffee, the yield of which, it was considered, would be smaller than was at first supposed, and all of a poor quality.

the coffee, the yield of which, it was considered, would be smaller than was at first supposed, and all of a poor quality.

The English steamer Mersey brings news of later date from Venezuela, by which we have more particular details of the late insurrection or attempted revolution at Maracabo. It appears that the President of the State happening to be absent from that city with a part of the troops that formed the garrison, word was brought on the 29th uit. at v.a. in that Col. Eduardo Perez was landing three miles off with 300 men, which was in fact the case, for about 10 o'clock he entered the city, and had a fight with about 300 men who garrisoned it, attempting to force an entirelie into their barracks, in which he was unsuccessful, being prevented by the shot from a cannon that the besieged had inside their barracks, and also being driven out of the city by the people firing from the tops of the houses. Gen Conde was killed in the defense of the barracks. In the meantime Gen Capo was coming to his assistance with 200 more men whom he had collected at Cucuta, Zulin, and Escalante, but was not able to reach the scene of action from the winds being contrary to the small sailing vessels in which he had placed his men, so that he could only send forward 100 of his command. At 3 p. in the Government vessels appeared in sight, when Perez retreated to joun his companion, who had arrived at last, when, after a slight hesitation, they dispersed. The President immediately sent out troops to pursue them, so that it was known for certain when the state of Zulin, who arranged their plans inside of the territory of Colombia, but there is nothing to show that the authorities of Colombia were at all cognizant of the fact. The arrival of a French ship-of-war at Laguayra gave grounds for fearing that its object was to compel payment of an annual debt due this month, but it was expected that there would be some Indulgence granted in the them of payment, on account of the difficulties by which the Venezuelan Government was su

ALBANY.

NOTHING DONE WITH THE CONVENTION BILL-THE CANAL QUESTION-THE TAX BILL-THE UNION LEAGUE INCORPORATION BILL DOST.

BY TREEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNG. ALBANY, Monday, March 4, 1867. Only 13 Senators were in their seats this morning, and barely a quorum of Representatives. The proceed, ings of both Houses consequently were not of much importance. The Convention bill was not put on its final passage as it was expected it would be, because of the slim attendance of members. The Senate was engaged the best part of the day in considering bills in Committee of the Whole, but none were of any great importance.

In the Assembly, the amendments of the Senate allowing the Select Committee to investigate the alleged canal frauds were not concurred in, on motion of Mr. Parker. Mr. Parker is opposed to the Committee's holding its session in secret, and moreover does not believe the next Legislature will act upon the findings of this Committee. Hence his motion. A Select Committee of five was ordered to examine into the feasibility of extending the Chemung Canal, so that it will connect with the Pennsyl-vania Canal.

The Ways and Means Committee reported the Tax bill.

Three mills is to be levied for bounty purposes; i mill for the purpose of the General Fund; i mill for support of common schools; i mill for the reduction of the State indebtedness.

the purpose of the General Fund; \(\frac{1}{4}\) mill for support of common schools; \(\frac{1}{4}\) mill for the reduction of the State indebtedness.

The bill amendatory of the act incorporating the Merchants' Exchange and News-Room was passed. Mesers. M. C. Murphy and Woltman were the only members who voted against it.

The bill amendatory of the act incorporating the New-York Union League, giving them power to procure and hold real estate, was lost on its final passage, a quorum not voting. All the Democratic members voted against it, and Mesers. Minard and D. P. Wood, Republicans. The latter did so for the purpose of moving a reconsideration of the vote, and to lay the motion on the table. This was carried, and gives the chance of having the bill brought up again to another vote when a full House is present.

Comment upon these provisions is hardly necessary. Thirty percent of the real and personal ertate of the counties named would almost build the road. How much personain it would take to get the members of the Common Council of your city to add to your debt $1,000,000, is not hard to conjecture, from their well-known weakness for jobs. This bill is in the Sub-Committee of the Whole (Grinding Committee), where it should remain.

The passage of this or some bill like it, will be of great benefit to the revenue of the State. As it is now, there are so many evasions of the law that the State has lost an immense sum of money. This bill guards against all these evasions in the fature.

Senator Lent gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill incorporating the "Mott Memorial Labrary of the City of New-York"—an institution now existing at No. 58 Madisson ave. The building is the free gift of the widow of the late Dr. Valentine Mott, and the library and apparatus, having been collected by Dr. Mott in his lifetime, will hereafter be devoted to the free use of medical students.

WHO MAKES THE BEST AND CHEAPEST GOLD PENS? GOLD PENS-GOOD WRITING .- To a person

"The Pen is Mightier than the Sword."

MORTON'S GOLD PENS,

THE BEST PENS IN THE WORLD.

Morton makes no Pens stamped with the whose employment consists chiefly in writingwhether as author, preacher, editor, teacher, accountant, or clerk-there is nothing connected with his vocation that can possibly annoy him more than a bad pen. We have heard bank officers and others frequently deplore, with disappointed look and tone, the uncertainty and consequent annoyance to which the very best of steel pens frequently subject them. And many times, also, in selecting gold pens, they fare not much better in reaching that point of satisfaction which ease and smoothness of writing with a good pen is certain to afford. There are numerous varieties of gold pens in the market, and some of them very fair and pleasant to use for a short time, but if frequently written with, they become disordered or out of trim, and, after many vexatious trials, have at last to be thrown away, and a new and untried "make of pen" substituted. And so the difficulty runs on until the writer becomes disgusted with even gold pens, and returns again to the next best make of steel pens.

Recently, however, the inventive genius of a practical mind has been employed in the production of such machinery as will make a gold pen entirety free from all the ordinary objections, and at lower rates than heretofore. Mor-TON of No. 25 Maiden-lane, New-York is the master spirit of this revolution in the art of gold pen making, and from his manufactory, the largest perhaps in existence, comes the very best gold pens ever given to the world. All other pens pale before the superior excellence of Morton's, and he is enjoying a reputation such as no other manufacturer ever hoped to reach before.

We make this special reference to the supe riority of Morton's gold pens over all others, because we have personally heard the frequent complaints of our friends and others, that they could not obtain a good pen anywhere. We wish to remove such impression from their minds, and to strongly recommend them to try one of Morton's make. We have labored under the same difficulties they have, and, at last, throwing aside all other gold pens, are now using one of Morton's, and find it so far above all our expectations and ideas of the perfection to which he had brought them, that we could not be induced to part with the one we are now using for any consideration of money if we could not replace it again. The manufacturer is an honorable, honest, truthful man, and will not misrepresent his pens, nor take advantage of distant customers. Any one sending to him for a pen will be certain to receive what they write for, and no mistake. All they need to do is to state fairly the nature and style of their handwriting; the hardness or flexibility of the pen they desire; its size and number; and they will be promptly served.

Like many others, we had our misgivings as to whether we could procure by mail, a pen that would suit us. But we tried the experiment. We stated the nature of our hand; the apparent pressure we use upon the pen when writing; the angle at which we hold it; and upon which point we incline the hand most while writing; and by return mail came exactly the style of pen we would have selected had we been in the factory searching for one. This success we attribute to the practical knowledge of the manufacturer, and his thorough acquaintance with his business.

We would be pleased to have some of our writing friends step into our office and try the pen we are now using. We feel that the use of such a pen would be to them what it is to us-a perfect luxury .- [Wilmington (Del.) Journal and Statesman, Feb. 22, 1867.

It was of the greatest importance that this preparation should be pateronized by the medical profession in this metropolis, as the community having been so frequently deceived by the multifarious so-called remediess specified and patent medicines, look with well-founded mistrust on all innovations in medical science, and physiciaus read with ridicule the pompous commendations of all such preparations, knowing that they are calculated solely to delade a credulous public. How has it been with HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT—BEVERAGE OF HEALTH! An exception has been made with it, as its great Europeans' reputation attracted at once the earnest attention of the Medical Paculty in this City, and they felt it their duty to examine and approve it. The most eminent physicians in this city prescribe HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT BEVERAGE daily in their practice, and have given Mr. HOFF proofs of their appreciation of its wonderful properties, among others Drs.
